Tips for selecting the proper corset

How to take a measurement

*Use a cloth tape measure that shows inches, or you can use centimeters and convert to inches (Multiply centimeters by 0.394 to get inches). Loop the tape around the part of the body you are measuring so it's snug fitting, but not pinching any skin.

Your Bra Size and Bust Measurement are different

*Your Bra Size and Bust Measurement are different. Your bust measurement is taken by looping the tape around the fullest part of your breasts, preferably while wearing your best fitting bra.

Don't make the mistake of taking your bra size, discarding the cup and assuming that is your bust measurement!

*Your body measurements may indicate conflicting sizes (example: your bust says large, but your waist says medium). Studying which measurement is more important can help you decide. If you're looking at a corset with a matching G-string, your waist measurement will be much more important than your bust measurement since the corsets are designed to "slim" your natural waist.

*You will have a really very slim waist thanks to the lace back up, and the corset will fit your shape perfectly. Celia's corsets assures you a very attractive appearance. To have the perfect size take your waist size minus 5-8 cm and then choose Celia's size. The size you are ordering is the cinched waist size not your personal waist measurements. Measures required to choose your perfect size: waist size.

To ensure you order the correct size, please measure your waist, if you get a number for example 28inch take off 2-3 inches and order a 26 or 25 inch waist corset.

*You do not need cup sizes (A, B, C, D) as for bras, because lace up assures to have perfect fit.

What does size S/M or 3XL/4XL mean?

Some items are adjustable or elastic enough that they come in combined sizes. For example, an item might say it's available in two sizes, S/M and L/XL, or in our Women's Plus section, it might say 3XL/4XL and 5XL/6XL. This means, for example, that a size S/M should fit if you are either a S or M as shown in the size chart. Likewise, a size 3XL/4XL will fit if you wear a 3XL or 4XL, as shown in the size chart.

If you have any questions about the sizing of your corset please feel free to contact us before you order and we will try our best to help. Please provide the following details if you have sizing questions:

*bust measurement at it widest (not always the same as bra size so please measure)

*waist at its thinnest point

*hips at the widest point
